

Yesterday I was arrested. It was unfair. I decided to visit my sister. When I got there, her husband was yelling at her. I started paying attention to the details of their conversation. I didn't want them to notice me so I hid behind a tree in their backyard. I didn't like my sister's husband very much. His arrogant attitude was annoying. The only things he thought of were tattoos and motorcycles. Suddenly, I heard a loud noise. I went into the house and saw him hit my sister on the head. He hurt her. I was really pissed off about what was happening and grabbed a chair. Then I hit him over the head and he passed out. Then my sister took out her phone and called the police. I didn't know why. When they got to the house she told them to arrest me. I couldn't understand. "Don't you recognize me?" I asked. When I got to the police station, I looked in the mirror and I realized why she didn't recognize me. I was wearing my mask.
